Prepositions of time (1)

THEATRE! DANCE! MUSIC! COMEDY!

England's biggest, busiest festival is back – it starts on 5 May and continues until 27 May.

Events at lunchtime on most days and in the evening every day.

The ticket office is open from 10.00 a.m. to 6.00 p.m. every day.

1 at, in, on

	an exact time	The train arrives at 6.00 . The film starts at 9.00 .
at-	special days or occasions	Lucy met an old friend at her sister's wedding.
	times of meals and the weekend	The concert is at lunchtime . What are you doing at the weekend ?
	parts of the day	There are events in the evening every day. It gets cooler in the afternoon.
in -	months, seasons, years, centuries	The festival is in May . He was born in 1994 . They built the castle in the eleventh century .
on	+ dates and days	The festival starts on 5 May . My interview is on Thursday afternoon .

We say at night, NOT in the night:

X The supermarket is open in the night ✓ The supermarket is open at night.

2 No preposition

We don't use a preposition with

- this (morning, week, etc.): What time did you have breakfast this morning?
- last (month, year, etc.): The new theatre opened last month.
- next (week, year, etc.): My English course starts next week.
- every (day, weekend, etc.): There are special events every day.

🚹 🗴 Kevin's exam was on last Tuesday. 🗸 Kevin's exam was last Tuesday. X There's a festival here in every February. ✓ There's a festival here every February.

3 in, until, from ... to/until

My birthday is in five days. (five days from now) The festival continues until 12 May. (it ends on this date) The festival lasts from 9 May to/until 12 May. (from the beginning to the end of this time)

London FILMFESTIVAL

Classic films of the 1920s:

The Hunchback of Notre Dame Wednesday 10 March at 7 p.m.

- Drinks before the film
- Neil Brand plays the piano during the film
- Talk after the show by the Director of the National Film Theatre

1 before, after

We use before and after with

- times
  - Let's meet before 7.00. The film starts then. Train tickets are cheaper after 9.30 in the morning.
- events/situations:

There will be drinks before the film. Let's watch TV after dinner. My grandmother was born before the war. I can meet you after work.

before and after + -ing form ➤ Unit 95.1

2 by, for, during

We use by to mean 'not later than':

Please give me your homework by Friday. (on or before Friday)
The holiday will be cheaper if we book it by 30 April. (on or before 30 April)
The meeting is on Wednesday so I'll finish the report by then.

We use for + a period of time: for an hour, two days, three weeks It means 'the whole time': We waited for the bus for an hour.

FOR AN HOUR

We use during + an event or situation:
during the flight, the winter, the war
Neil Brand plays the piano during the film.
Uncle Andy called us during supper with some bad news.

Compare during and for: I only slept for half an hour during the flight.

It rained for two days during our holiday.

★ I go to classes during three hours in the afternoon.
 ✓ I go to classes for three hours in the afternoon.
