C Choose the correct option

Athletics is one of the most popular types of sport. People have been (1) scoring / building athletic competitions since ancient times, ever since the Olympic Games began in 776 BC. Usually, individual athletes (2) compete / race against each other in running, jumping, throwing and a variety of other activities. To (3) succeed / follow in running, you must have speed, (4) strength / weakness and strategy. Sometimes you have to (5) start / appear in the finishing line / trophy whereas at other times you have to (7) race / pace yourself. Jumping events include the pole vault and the triple jump. In order to try and (8) beat / win your opponent in the triple jump you have to do a (9) hop / flip and a step and then jump.
